

As some restrictions start to ease and churches are permitted to hold services, I thought I would bring the idea of Fellowship Communion to your attention.

This little pack, seen below, holds the wafer and the juice in one container. Instructions are below describing exactly how to open the cup. You just peel back the cover to use. It's a wonderful idea to be able to use these during communion services. Everyone can handle their own cups. These items will not expire until one year after packaging.

I am taking pre-orders for this product. If this is something your church is interested in purchasing, please let me know as soon as possible.

Deadline to order is: Thursday July 2, 2020.
