Title: York-Covehead Pastoral Charge fonds

Dates: 1842; 1852; 1857; 1860-2018

Extent: 1.05 metres of textual records

Administrative History: A pastoral charge consists of one or more communities of faith under the spiritual leadership of a minister. The pastoral charge title usually reflects the breadth of the geographic area encompassing the charge.

York-Covehead Pastoral Charge is located on Prince Edward Island. Communities of faith are Central, Stanhope, West Covehead (St. James), and York.

In 1925, the Congregational, Methodist and most Presbyterian Churches were united into one denomination--The United Church of Canada.

After church union in 1925, York-Marshfield Pastoral Charge consisted of the preaching points of Brackley, Marshfield, Pleasant Grove, and York. The name of the pastoral charge was changed to York Pastoral Charge in 1950.

In 1925, Covehead Pastoral Charge consisted of the preaching points of West Covehead, Covehead Road, Stanhope, and Union Road. Covehead Road was last listed as a preaching place in 1963.

In 1967, Covehead Pastoral Charge and York Pastoral Charge were amalgamated to form the York-Covehead Pastoral Charge. This new pastoral charge contained Central, Pleasant Grove, Stanhope, West Covehead, and York. Union Road United Church was closed at this time and the building sold in 1973.

Pleasant Grove United Church was closed in 2012.

Effective January 1, 2019, The United Church of Canada underwent some structural changes including the elimination of all Presbyteries. At this time, York-Covehead Pastoral Charge became part of the Fundy St. Lawrence Dawning Waters Regional Council.

Custodial History: Information about the custody of these records prior to acquisition is incomplete.

Title: Covehead Presbyterian Church records

Dates: 1866-1925

Extent: 5 cm of textual records

Administrative History: Covehead was the site where the first Protestant minister settled on Prince Island resided. The Rev. Theophilus DesBrisay had his residence there and drove 15 miles (24 kilometres) to Charlottetown to preach. He had arrived on Prince Edward Island in 1775. In early life, he had been Presbyterian and allowed the Presbyterian minister to use his church.

Through the efforts of Rev. James MacGregor, the Presbytery of Nova Scotia set up the first official Presbyterian congregation on the island in 1806. Prior to this, services had been held here sporadically between since 1744. This pastoral charge consisted of Covehead, St. Peter's, and Fortune. In this same year, Rev. Peter Gordon was ordained and inducted into the pastoral charge. One of the first Presbyterian churches, known as "The Barren's Church" was constructed in St. Peter's Harbour in 1806. A second church was constructed in 1812 on the site of the present-day Midgell Cemetery.

By July 1843, it was decided to divide the large congregation into two pastoral charges: West St. Peter's and Covehead became one pastoral charge and East St. Peter's and Bay Fortune formed a second pastoral charge. Due to rapid growth, West St. Peter's was separated from Covehead on July 28, 1852.

The first church at Covehead was built by the shore. This church was later moved a mile inland opposite the school. A new church was constructed around 1837. The church became part of The United Church of Canada in 1925.

In 1880, a Presbyterian church was built in Stanhope on land donated by Samuel Lawson.

Title: York Methodist Circuit records

Dates: 1842; 1852; 1857; 1860-1925

Extent: 18.8 cm of textual records

Administrative History: York, also known as Little York, became a regular appointment of the Charlottetown Methodist Circuit in 1819. A church was built in 1824. A new chapel followed in 1850. York and Cornwall separated from the Charlottetown circuit in 1857. York and Cornwall separated in 1876 to become the heads of their own circuits. At this time, the York Methodist Circuit contained York, Brackley, Pleasant Grove, Stanhope, and Covehead. A manse was built in 1879. In 1913, York and Winsloe were listed as one circuit until 1916 when Winsloe was separated from York.

As of 1904, York Methodist Circuit contained Little York, Pleasant Grove, Stanhope, Union Road, Brackley, Black River (Donaldston), and Dunstaffnage.

Pleasant Grove, formerly known as Tracadie Road, was a preaching point on the Charlottetown Methodist Circuit until it became part of the York-Cornwall Methodist Circuit in 1857 and later the Little York Methodist Circuit in 1876. A chapel was built in 1852 and opened in 1853. A new church was constructed in 1857.

Union Road Methodist Church began as a Bible Christian Church when Thomas Abbot and his wife, both members of the Bible Christian movement, settled in the area from England in 1830. They wrote to England to request a preacher and Rev. Francis Metherall and his family arrived in 1832. Church services were held in homes until a chapel was built c. 1833. The New London-Union Road circuit covered at least 36 different congregations. The circuit was divided in 1850 and Union Road became the head of a circuit which also included Wheatley River, Winsloe South, and Winsloe North. A Wesleyan Methodist Church was built around this same time in Union Road. When the Methodist Church of Canada united with the Bible Christian Church, the Methodist church at Union Road became a hall and the Bible Christian church became the Methodist church.

In 1925, the York Methodist Circuit became part of The United Church of Canada.
